- Venue   -AutoCAD Lab(Room no.602)
- No of Participants -25
- Entry Fee   -Rs 100 per person

The ITSA had conducted a peer workshop on Java and SQL which was addressed by Mr. Nikhil Pujari, the Technical Head of ITSA. Participants were allowed to get their own laptops if they wanted to and were told to download the applications required for the workshop.

The workshop focused on the following key points:

- Basics and concept clearing of Java and SQL.
- Making of a Java project and consultancy for the same.
- Quiz to test all the concepts that were taught during the workshop.
- Tricks to crack practical exams.

Students learnt how to create a java swing graphical user interface (GUI) application using net beans which was taught by Mr. Rahul Bhatt, a student from the third year IT department. At 1:00pm a short break was given and refreshments were provided to all the participants. The workshop concluded with a doubt clearing session and a small quiz on the topics that were taught during the workshop. Study material was provided to all the participants. It was an interactive workshop which was well appreciated by all the participants.
